V.I. Bureau of Internal Revenue Director Claudette Watson-Anderson said Tuesday that, pursuant to section of 8(a) of Act No. 7261, the Economic Stability Act of 2011, BIR has been authorized to publish in a generally circulated newspaper, the names of all businesses and entities and the owners thereof, that are delinquent on the payment of gross receipts, hotel occupancy taxes and excise taxes for over six months as of the date of enactment of this bill, July 5, 2011.

The list will include taxpayers who have been delinquent prior to January 5, 2011. The news release is directed to a specifically named person or group of persons and does not apply generally throughout the Virgin Islands.
